

MAY INVESTIGATE DEATH OF WOMAN

Mrs. Ethel Jane Farr Dies Suddenly and Coroner May Investigate.

Mrs. Ethel Jane Farr, wife of Joseph H. Farr, 440 West Eighth South street, died under mysterious circumstances yesterday. Apparently in perfect health, she left the home of her mother, Mrs. Sarah Drury, 445 West Eighth South street, about 4:15 o'clock, and an hour later Mrs. Drury found her daughter lying on the wet floor of the Farr home. Mrs. Drury summoned Dr. Chauncey Benedict, but Mrs. Farr died before his arrival. Heart disease is the supposed cause of death, but Coroner Stanley A. Hanks is considering the advisability of holding an inquest.

Mrs. Farr was scrubbing the floor yesterday. About 3 o'clock her husband left home to come down to the Western Furniture company to work. At that time Mrs. Farr seemed in perfect health. She had not been complaining of illness recently, and being only 26 years old, she was the picture of robust young womanhood.

She thought of something at her mother's that she wanted to borrow, so she went across to her mother's home, and after a few moments' chat she returned. She was not seen again until her mother found her gasping on the floor she had been scrubbing. Her broom and mop lay near at hand as if she had dropped them when seized with the sudden attack.

The husband and Mrs. Farr's father, Joseph Drury, were quickly summoned when Dr. Benedict had pronounced Mrs. Farr dead. They could give no inkling as to any cause save heart disease, but neither could recollect of ever having heard Mrs. Farr complain of pains in the region of her heart.

Neighbors regarded the Farris as an ideally happy young couple. Mrs. Farr never seemed depressed, and about her household duties singing and apparently as happy as could be. All who investigated the death believe it to have been caused by heart disease, but owing to the extremely sudden character of the demise Coroner Hanks may hold an inquest.

SUFFRAGETTE BELIEVES ALL WOMEN WILL VOTE

Woman Who Figured in the Recent London Demonstration Visits in City.

Mrs. Franklin Blanchard, militant suffragette, who figured in the London demonstration last July, registered at the Knutsford hotel yesterday. She is bound for Seattle and there she will be booked to lecture before numerous socialistic gatherings.

She declared herself much encouraged with conditions in this country at present, and believes the cause will be successful in America first and then in England.

"This country, it seems to me, is the storm center now," she said. "And I think the granting of votes to American women would be a powerful incentive to our cause at home. Of course, we will not wait for this, but will continue to fight for the enforcement of the suffrage bill in parliament."

"The arrest and jailing of numerous women of London has done more for our cause than any other thing. We do not expect any special treatment in our fight for the ballot, and if it becomes necessary to resort to such sensational demonstrations as those in London last July, we will willingly suffer the consequences."

"I predict a universal granting of votes to women within ten years."

REVIVE FLAX INDUSTRY

Series of Meetings Arranged to Create Interest in Big Projects.

A series of meetings has been arranged by J. H. Riley to boost the flax, cake and linoleum industry in the state. Mr. Riley is father of the industry, which promises to be among the big ones in Utah.

The first of these meetings will be held Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, at the Morgan county. At this meeting George T. Stenhouse will be the leading speaker. Others who will speak are Mr. George Geary and Bishop R. Toome of Morgan.

The object of this meeting will be to create interest in flax production, and to have the flax men of the state meet at the fifth ward meeting house Nov. 11, and at the fifteenth ward assembly hall Nov. 18.

Considerable interest in the flax movement has been aroused already. Mr. Riley says that within six months there will be erected a plant on the banks of the Jordan river in north Salt Lake, and that within five years there will be five flax product mills.

LIGHTED CIGAR STUB STARTS FIRE IN STORE

With only a small blaze and dense volumes of smoke, a fire which broke out in the basement of the Barton Clothing company store, Nos. 334-336 South State street, at 4:30 o'clock yesterday morning, offered stubborn battle to the fire department for over an hour and damaged a great amount of stock in the store. The Barton Clothing company stock was valued at $40,000, and about $30,000 insurance was carried. The damage will amount to about $5,000. The building, a one-story brick, is owned by the Halloran-Judge company and is valued at $30,000.

It is supposed that a lighted cigar was thrown among the refuse in the basement and the character of the fire was of the elusive and hard to fight. Most of the damage was done by smoke and water.

A private safe may be rented in the fire and burglar proof vault of the Salt Lake Security & Trust Co., 32 up Main street, $2.00 per year and upwards.

KEPT INCOMMUNICADO IN THE SALT LAKE JAIL

Denver Men Sue Sheets and Barlow for $5,000 Damages for False Imprisonment.

False imprisonment of two young men in the city jail for four days resulted in the filing of two suits in the district court yesterday for $5,000 each against Samuel M. Barlow, chief of police, Earl Ripley, a detective, George A. Sheets, chief of detectives, and John Doe Ripley. The suits are brought by John Buell of Denver and Joseph Lake.

During the four-day convention plaintiffs were thrown into jail. They charge they were imprisoned for four days "without probable cause and without any right or authority." No charges were preferred, but bail was denied, nor were they permitted to call attorneys. Then the young men were charged with "vagrancy," but were freed in police court.

In each case $5,000 is demanded for false imprisonment.

THIEF SHOOTS AT SHARP

Detected in Act of Taking Lumber, an Unknown Man Fires Several Shots.

Liberty was dear to an unknown man who at an early hour yesterday morning was caught in the act of making away with some old lumber owned by John A. Sharp near the Jordan bridge on Twelfth South street. So dear was the man's liberty that he risked taking a few shots at Mr. Sharp and his neighbor, Ross Porter, rather than submit to awaiting the arrival of Sheriff Joseph Sharp, after he had been forced to return the lumber to the place from where it was taken.

Mr. Sharp was returning home from a neighborhood meeting when he discovered the theft. Sending his son, Jesse Sharp, to telephone for the sheriff, he caught the man and compelled him to return the lumber. In answer to his request that the man wait for the sheriff, a gun was flourished and the man drove away.

Securing a shotgun, Mr. Sharp and Mr. Porter gave pursuit, and were fired at several times. When Sheriff Joseph Sharp and a deputy arrived the man had disappeared.

AGED COUPLE WILL WED

Little Dan Cupid Plays Franks With a Salt Lake Man and Woman.

That Father Time cuts no figure in the dealings of Cupid was emphasized yesterday, when N. P. Hansen, 65 years old, and Kristine N. Winberg, aged 65 years, stopped momentarily up to the marriage license counter in the city and county building and asked for a license.

The request rather startled the deputies for an instant, as it looked more likely that the old couple would be looking up the records of the marriage of their grandchildren. But Mr. Hansen was in earnest, and the license was handed out to them. And then, after paying the fee of $2.50, the couple walked out of the office and down the hall, arm in arm and as happy as two children. Both live in Salt Lake.

TEACHING HOW TO VOTE GIRL IS EAGER TO DIE

Demonstrators Operate Machines and Judges' Classes Are Taught by Recorder.

Six voting machines have been sent out by City Recorder J. B. Moreton to be placed in different places about the city for instruction of the voters who may not know how to operate them.

At each place will be found men who will instruct voters on the way to pull levers and record votes.

The machines will be found at Keith's station, Walker Bros' store, Republican headquarters, Tribune office, Judge J. J. Whitaker's court and the board of public works office, both in the city and county building. The machines will be left at the different places probably until Monday.

Employees of the city recorder's office have been up to their ears in work for hours that will be sent around the city changes made on the tickets, but the clerical work is practically finished now. The ballot has been printed and will be posted in convenient places on Saturday night.

All of this week City Recorder Moreton is holding classes on the first floor of the city and county building, instructing the judges of the 14 districts in the manner of handling the vote and the machines. The school will continue until Saturday night.

SICKNESS AND ACCIDENT PURSUE HENRY WAGNER

Convinced that he is the original hard luck victim, Henry Wagner, a patient at the St. Mark's hospital, has told the nurses that he doesn't believe it of much use to recover, for, he says: "I'll be back here again inside of a week, if I get out."

There is some foundation for Wagner's belief. He is now in the hospital with his leg broken in three places. This happened a few days ago while working at the Boston Consolidated mines in Bingham a few months ago Wagner had his left leg broken by a cave-in. Following his release from the hospital he had an attack of appendicitis and was again brought to the hospital. He was working in the Dalton & Lark mine at the time of his latest injury. Wagner is somewhat tired of life.

"I'm tired of leading a life of shame," moaned pretty Ella Hiddle, a young girl who rooms at 214 West Third South street, when taken to the emergency hospital at the city jail at an early hour yesterday morning suffering from the effects of having swallowed four bichloride of mercury tablets. Antidotes were administered and the girl will recover.

Other roomers in the house where the girl lived were attracted by the girl's moans of pain and the police were notified. The girl was removed to the hospital, where she repeatedly requested Dr. P. B. Steele to let her die.

"There is nothing in the life I have been leading except shame and suffering, and I wanted to end it," said the girl, as she moaned convulsively. "It is a hell on earth and I am better out of it. I knew what I was doing and I am going to quit this life anyhow."

The girl was taken from the hospital by friends, who said they would keep a close watch to prevent a repetition of her rash act.
